CARPENTERS AND ROOFERS OBTAIN WAGE ADVANCE

Schedule of a Year Ago, Reduced by Agreement, Is Restored—Rate to Be $1.25 an Hour.

RECENT ADVANCES AFFECT 14,000

Secretary of Carpenters' District Council Says Building Boom Is Causing Greater Demand for Labor

With the announcement today by Harry Linderman, secretary of the Carpenters' District Council, that the carpenters' request for a return to their wage scale of $1.25 an hour, from which they accepted a reduction to $1.10 an hour a year ago, has been granted by the employers, effective May 1 virtually all of the 14,000 building trades workers in St. Louis have received wage increases this spring.

The threatened difficulty over a wage scale for the composition roofers was arbitrated yesterday. Employers agreed to the demand for a return to $1.25 scale, with $1.30 an hour for foremen, effective today. The roofers had taken a reduction to $1.15 an hour from $1.25 in the general building trades a year ago.

In the carpenters' union there were some 3200 men, while about 2000 were in the building roofers' union.

The cost of labor in building, however, despite the increases this spring, is only about half the cost of building material. Linderman said: "Figures tabulated recently show the labor cost usually is but 30 per cent, and the material cost approximately 60 per cent. The other 10 per cent is for incidental expenses."

Return to Former Scales. Linderman added that the increase this year was merely a return to former wage scales. "We are not really getting an increase," he said. "The building boom is causing a greater demand for labor. The demand is great, either in labor or material, the natural consequence is an increase in cost. That is a rule of economics. But we are going back to a former level, which, in most cases I believe, is sufficient."

Return to old wage scales, foremen in the Post-Dispatch last December and subsequent increases announced from time to time during the last three months, have brought back in labor prices for the bricklayers, stone masons and plasterers, of whom are now receiving $1.50 a day.

Building engineers working on a scale wage have been granted an increase from $1.15 to $1.25 an hour and from $1.25 to $1.37 1/2 an hour effective June 1. Sheet metal workers have been granted their demand of $1.25 an hour from $1.10 a date for this increase has not yet definitely set.

The carpenters took their reduction after the Rev. Father Murphy Dempsey, pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, had been induced to mediate. He suggested the $1.10 scale which was accepted. A number of the trades last year made two-year contracts on the same scale. However, many of these agreements expired, leaving the carpenters, cement finishers and sheet metal workers, have won their demand of a return this year to the $1.25 scale.

General Throughout Country. The wage increase is general throughout the country. Employers have expressed a fear that the increased cost of labor would kill, or at least curtail, the building boom, and that the result would be no more work than would have been earned at old scale with continuous work. The employers have written to the secretary of Commerce Hoover, asking for a conference of construction workers, with the idea of curtailing the boom, but it is believed to be an unhealthy thing.

A letter from our national organization, outlined this recently. E. I. Wilson, secretary of the Master Builders Association, said: "We are in a period during and following the building boom, an effort is being made to catch up. This is a period when the building boom is at its height, with the fact that it is being built by permits valued at more than $4,000,000,000, and the cost of the entire first quarter of 1922."

DONALD W. ROSS.

ACQUAINTANCES hardly recognized Ross after his arrest yesterday. His black hair, which he formerly wore comparatively long, was closely clipped; his hornrimmed spectacles had been discarded; a mustache was growing, and the fedora hat which he used to wear had been exchanged for a cap such as youthful "cake-eaters" wear.

OLD POSEY BURIED AT SCENE OF LAST STAND

Renegade Indian Leader, Died Alone When White Possemen Routed His Small Band.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 25.—The body of Old Posey, leader of the vanquished renegade tribe of Plute Indians which went on the warpath in Southeastern Utah last month, rests today in a rude rock-covered grave somewhere in the mountains near Blanding, Utah, where he was killed last week in a skirmish with white soldiers.

The aged chieftain—he was reported to be 100 years old—made his last stand with a handful of braves near Comb Wash on March 28 last and he died alone while white possemen routed his small band. United States Marshal J. Rex Ward later yesterday took the news of Old Posey's death to Blanding. Marshal Ward and four Indians recovered the body.

At the request of the Indians, it was reported, the body was buried without ceremony on a mountain side. It was also said that the Indians had asked that the burial place be not revealed.

Body Found in Cave. Marshal Ward went to Blanding several days ago to investigate reports that the Indians had information on the whereabouts of Old Posey, who faced arrest under a Federal warrant charging insurrection. Monces Jim, another aged chieftain, told the Marshal that Old Posey had died in battle and that the captured Plutes knew where the body lay. The Marshal set out on horseback with the Indians and they found the body on the rim of Comb Wash. The body was recovered in a cave where the Indians said Old Posey had crept before he died.

In late years Old Posey had figured as a leader in many Indian disturbances in Southeastern Utah, where he was said to have lived most of his life. Posey's name was known in the West wherever there were Utes, and as William Hatch he was known to old white men in the San Juan basin.

Officials here said the death of Old Posey was assurance that Indian trouble in the Southeastern part of the State was at end.

GIRL JUDGE, WHO SENTENCED 25 TO DIE, SLEEPS WELL

With Cigarette Firmly Held Between Lips, She Asserts Doom of Men—Woman Leaves Conscience Clear.

By the Associated Press.

MOSCOW, April 25.—Citizeness Anna Gluzman, 23-year-old president Judge, who a few days ago sent seven men to their death for robbery, informed the Associated Press correspondent today she had imposed the death penalty on about 25 persons since February, and had not lost a moment's sleep or been troubled by her conscience because of them.

Asked how, as a woman, she felt when the doomed were shot, she replied the question of individual lives could have no consideration when crimes against the safety of the state and the public were involved. She said to administer justice according to the law of evidence, though she tried to temper her decisions with mercy, when possible.

With a cigarette held firmly between her tight lips and the fire of an enthusiast in her brown eyes, the girl Judge spoke of her court experiences. She is slim and short, but at all pretty; her brown wavy hair is bobbed and parted on the side like a man's; her jaw is stern. Dressed as she was today, Citizeness Gluzman might have posed for the representation of justice in other parts of the country and from possible court action by western and southern railroads.

The budget director had recommended an appropriation of only $27,000,000 and it had been intimated that the administration might hold expenditures to that figure. Allotments already made included: The Mississippi River, between Ohio and Missouri River, $300,000; removing sewage works below mouth of Missouri River, $20,000; from Missouri River and Minnesota, $500,000; Missouri River, Kansas City to mouth, $1,200,000; Kansas City to Fort Benton, $15,000; Ohio River, Missouri, $10,000; Southwest Pass, Mississippi River, $200,000; South Pass, Mississippi, $100,000; waterway, Mississippi to Bayou Texon, $275,000; waterway, Calcasieu River to Sabine River, $400,000; Illinois River, $175,000.

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., April 25.—George Elliott, 29 years old, a Cape Girardeau service car driver, pleaded guilty to killing his brother-in-law, Hosea Johnson, when his small car was in Circuit Court today. He was fined $600 by Judge Frank Kelly. The killing occurred April 30, 1922, at a street corner.

Elliott, with his sister, Mrs. Johnson, was driving in an automobile when they met Johnson. Johnson was driving in a car and was shot by Elliott. Johnson and his wife had been in a quarrel over a business matter and a divorce case was pending.

The action of the Commission, which follows the granting of an injunction in Boston against the order, resulted from an appeal for postponement by western carriers.

EGYPT CURTAILS LIQUOR SALE

Licenses Refused as Prohibition Sentiment Grows.

LONDON, April 25.—The Egyptian Government is viewing sympathetically the growth of the prohibition movement in that country, according to a Cairo dispatch to the Morning Post. The Government recently refused several applications for licenses to sell alcoholic liquors on the ground that it desires to curtail the sale of spirituous liquor in Egypt.

The Turkish prohibition movement has attracted considerable attention among the Egyptians, the correspondent asserts, and they appear to be taking up the question as one of principle.

CRITICISM OF JUDGMENT STIRS SUPREME COURT

Justice Woodson States Kansas City Lawyers Who Filed Opinion on Decision Are Open to Contempt Action.

DOCUMENT SIGNED BY 35 ATTORNEYS

It Characterized as Fundamentally Wrong Finding Written by Woodson in a Civil Suit.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 25.—Judges of the State Supreme Court are embroiled today in an unusual dispute between Chief Justice A. M. Woodson of that court and 35 attorneys of Kansas City who recently presented to Division No. 1 of the court a motion, somewhat in the nature of a memorial, characterizing as fundamentally wrong in principle an opinion by Judge Woodson in a civil suit. The Chief Justice in turn has issued a formal statement in which he declared that "the language used and the spirit manifested in the motion or suggestion constitute contempt of court, which would justify the court in citing every man who signed the same for contempt of court."

The suit in question was an action by the Gary Realty Co. of Kansas City to oust lessees of the Empress Theater in Kansas City, being a suit in what is known as unlawful detainer. Judge Woodson reversed the findings of the lower courts, the Justice of the Peace who tried the case originally, and the Circuit Court and Kansas City Court of Appeals, which in turn affirmed the findings of the Justice, on the ground that proper summons never had been served on the defendants.

Judgment Became Final Dec. 12. This judgment was entered Dec. 12 last and became final and unassailable with the expiration of that term of court.

Nevertheless, a number of Kansas City attorneys, becoming exercised about the matter, filed their motion for reversal of the judgment, and urged that when the defendant entered appearance he waived service and cured any defects in the service, and asserting also that the decision "contravenes the fixed conception of the law as to what constitutes jurisdiction over subject matter."

Signers of Document. Some of the most prominent law firms in Kansas City signed the document, as follows: Harding, Murphy, Stinson & Tucker; Gossett, Ellis, Dietrich & Tyler; Hoff, Meers, German & Michaels; Miller, Canack, Winger & Reed; James E. Goodrich; McCune, Caldwell & Downing; Howerscock & Fizzell; Harless & Histed; Guthrie & Conrad; Herman M. Langworthy; Davis & Woodruff; Frank W. McAllister; Blackmar & Banduschi; Clyde Taylor; Watson, Gage & Ess.

Judge Woodson, in concluding his statement, observed that "because of this contemptuous attack made upon my opinion, in the suggestions filed, I think I am justified in making this statement without consulting with my associates and when let them do as they deem proper in the premises."

Other Judges of the court were unwilling to express themselves about the matter for the present.

'NEVER AGAIN,' SAYS EXPLORER

'Twenty Years in Vicinity of Pole Plenty,' Asserts Capt. Sverdrup.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, April 25.—One can spend too many years of his life trying to find the North Pole, is the opinion of Capt. Otto Sverdrup, former commander of the Polar schooner Fram, used by Prof. Fridtjof Nansen in his unsuccessful efforts to reach the North Pole. The Polar captain arrived Monday on the steamer United States from Copenhagen on a business trip.

"I have spent 20 years of my life in the vicinity of the North Pole," said the captain. "That is plenty of time for me. Asked if he ever intended to try again for the pole, the rugged old sea dog said: 'I will never try again, now that it has been reached.'"

GERMAN WORKERS PAY 20 TIMES AS MUCH TAX AS INDUSTRIALISTS

"Taxation Scandal," Says Vorwarts Which Advocates Conscription of Holdings.

By the Associated Press. BERLIN, April 25.—GERMAN wage earners paid 20 times as much taxes as the industrialists, according to Ministry of finance statistics. During March wage earners, whose tax is directly withheld from their pay, paid the Reich 180,000,000 marks as against 9,000,000,000 paid by the industrialists. The Socialist Vorwarts calls is "a German taxation scandal" which can only be adjusted if the Government changes its policy toward the industrialists to active conscription of a certain percentage of all capitalized holdings.

DRINK OF WEDDING MOONSHINE KILLS MAN

Neighbor, Given Drink From What Was Left After Feast, Affected Immediately.

John Dann, 62 years old, of 1124 South Newstead avenue, who returned Friday from a visit of five months in Germany with relatives, he had not seen for 40 years, died at City Hospital at 6:15 a. m. today from the effects of "moonshine" whisky, left over from a wedding feast at the home of a neighbor, which was given to him at 10 a. m. yesterday.

Joseph Jennings and Miss Alma Semko were married Monday night at the home of the bride's father, John Semko, 1118 South Newstead avenue. Guests were given libations from a gallon jug of "moonshine." None of them experienced any unusually serious effects.

Yesterday forenoon Semko called to his neighbor, Dann, to come over and get something that had been left from the wedding. Dann went and was given a drink of the whisky. It affected him almost immediately and he had to be assisted home, where he sank unconscious to the floor. A physician was called, who worked over him until almost midnight and then sent him to the hospital. The diagnosis there was alcohol poisoning.

Two of House of David Group Brides

Underwood & Underwood

THIS photograph, made outside the grand jury room at Benton Harbor, Mich., shows two of the brides in the latest group wedding at the House of David, a religious colony that is under investigation by the Michigan State authorities because of alleged immoral practices of its leader Benjamin Purnell, the Immortal, otherwise known as "King Benjamin." Two days before the investigation began, 14 couples obtained licenses to wed and they were paired off by lots. The girls who have testified say they have complied with the colony law by not living with their husbands since the marriage.

The trial of the Krupp directors, Hartwig, Oesterlin and Bruhn, arrested after the recent fatal clash between French soldiers and German workmen at the Krupp works in Essen, will be held at Vreden beginning May 1, it is announced by the occupational authorities.

French to Receive Any German Offer for With Greatest Caution. Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the New York World.

PARIS, April 25.—In official circles here as the prospects of an immediate German offer are reiterated, there is a determination to receive it with the greatest caution. The view continues that reparations cannot be discussed either with Germany or the allies unless inter-allied debts also are considered. France feels that should Germany circulate an offer to several Governments at once England would constitute over-self arbiter to the disadvantage of France. Therefore, the French will insist on a strict preliminary examination of any offer before even considering it. The opinion is firm that a general conference will eventually and France wants to know the precise terms of offer before entering it. Further more, Premier Poincaré will insist when the offer is made that Berlin order restoration of normalcy in the Ruhr.

GIRLS, FORMER CULT
MEMBERS, TESTIFY"King" Benjamin Purnell Ac-

proper Advances.By the Associated Press.
ST. JOSEPH, Mich., April 25.—
Hailing the courtward procession of child-brides and bridegrooms of the House of David, the grand jury investigating charges of immorality in "King" Benjamin Purnell's Israelite colony took time out today to hear the stories of three ex-members of the cult, two of them girls who were married off in past group weddings there.

This afternoon more of the 14 couples who rushed into wedlock last week on the eve of the State's investigation will be summoned.

Mrs. Helen Couch, 21, ex-Israelite, described to the grand jury Judge Harry Dingsman, husband of Joseph Bulley, one of Purnell's followers, as her husband in the marriage lottery, but when the drawing was made another girl took the prize, so she was forced to choose again, and selected David Couch, her present husband.

COURT ASKED TO VACATE ORDER
FOR HOUSING TRUST RECEIVERJudge Landwehr Petitioned to Set Aside Ruling in United Home
Builders Case.

Attorneys in the receivership proceeding against the United Home Builders of America of Dallas, Tex., today petitioned Circuit Judge Landwehr to vacate an order appointing a receiver for the concern and to set aside a temporary restraining order enjoining the defendant concern from removing its assets from Missouri.

The reasons set forth in the petition are that the Court here is without jurisdiction and acted without authority of law. It was also asked that return of service by the Sheriff on the defendant be quashed. An attorney for William Sacks, named in the proceeding as the defendant as a trustee, also petitioned the Court to quash the return of service against Sacks, making the point that Sacks was not sued as an individual, but as a trustee.

Judge Landwehr recently appointed State Finance Commissioner Millspaugh as receiver and issued the temporary restraining order.

Address of Dr. Vaughn.

In his address Dr. Vaughn said:

The old frequently envy youth its opportunities and wish that they were again young. This is idle and needless is not desirable. My generation has enjoyed great privileges.

Were the price offered eternal youth, I would not tear from memory's book one page of its golden lessons, and I ask no higher immortality than that there should be found among my students those who have been inspired by my words and works, to carry forward the torch of science to light their fellowmen on their way to wider knowledge and its beneficent rewards.

Man has already accomplished much, but the greater task lies ahead. The productivity of the soil must be increased a hundredfold. Grain and fruits yet unknown must be grown. The heavy burdens that still oppress the shoulders of labor must be transferred to the tireless muscles of machinery. The literature of the higher civilization is unwritten.

Laws for which no precedents can be found must be framed and administered. The giant strength of intra-molecular energy must be harnessed into the service of man. A broader morality must govern our behavior, and a deeper religion must enshrine the common aspirations of the race. All this and much more must be achieved before man fully develops his potential greatness.

The old frequently envy youth its opportunities and wish that they were again young. This is idle and needless is not desirable. My generation has enjoyed great privileges.

Were the price offered eternal youth, I would not tear from memory's book one page of its golden lessons, and I ask no higher immortality than that there should be found among my students those who have been inspired by my words and works, to carry forward the torch of science to light their fellowmen on their way to wider knowledge and its beneficent rewards.

Man has already accomplished much, but the greater task lies ahead. The productivity of the soil must be increased a hundredfold. Grain and fruits yet unknown must be grown. The heavy burdens that still oppress the shoulders of labor must be transferred to the tireless muscles of machinery. The literature of the higher civilization is unwritten.

Laws for which no precedents can be found must be framed and administered. The giant strength of intra-molecular energy must be harnessed into the service of man. A broader morality must govern our behavior, and a deeper religion must enshrine the common aspirations of the race. All this and much more must be achieved before man fully develops his potential greatness.

HE AND CASHIER

Peculations, Extended Over
Many Years, Were Concealed by the Hiding of Ledger Pages.

By the Associated Press.
YORK, Pa., April 25.—Forged notes, ranging in denomination from $100 up into thousands, constitute the evidence of delinquencies against Thomas B. Baird, cashier, and William H. Boll, assistant cashier, of the City Bank of York, according to State Banking officials, who yesterday closed the institution after they had discovered a shortage estimated at nearly $1,000,000. Both Baird and Boll, who are charged with embezzling funds of the bank, are in jail in default of $100,000 bail each.

Charles H. Graft, Second Deputy State Banking Commissioner, would today that Boll had admitted forging notes aggregating $122,000, but had declined to say what he had done with the money.

Graft said the operations of the two apparently had extended over many years and that they had been able to conceal them by hiding pages from loose leaf ledger when the State authorities made an examination.

Both Baird and Boll are married and have two children each. Baird's salary was $2800 a year and Boll's $2500.

State Banking Commissioner Cameron said that the effect of the loss of the funds would have on the future of the bank could not be determined until the investigation was completed. The directors were unable to say whether the bank would be able to survive the loss. They admitted that the outlook was "dubious."

FINGERPRINTS OF MRS. PHILLIPS
ON THE WAY TO HONDURAS

Consul Asks South American Republic to Facilitate Early Return of the Prisoner.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 25.—Photographs and fingerprints of Clara Phillips, escaped "bomber murderer," today were on the way to Tegucigalpa, Honduras, where she is believed to be under arrest, according to R. R. F. Rodriguez, Honduran Consul here.

Rodriguez stated he had asked his Government to facilitate the early return to Los Angeles of the prisoner if it should be definitely established that she is Mrs. Phillips. The officers to be sent to bring the woman back will be Eugene W. Biscailuz, Lieutenant, and two other deputy sheriffs, a jailmatron and Mrs. Biscailuz. They expect to leave about May 5 and return about June 8.

The case of Jesse H. Carson, one of the woman's alleged traveling companions, wanted here for arson, probably will be taken up by the county grand jury tomorrow. It was said by an indictment might have more weight in extradition proceedings than the ordinary complaint now on file against him.

SAN SALVADOR, April 25.—Mrs. Clara Phillips, the Los Angeles murderer, has been captured through the combined efforts of American detectives and the local police in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, according to information received here. The woman was arrested in her room in the Hotel Aguirre.

LAST MEMBER OF PAYROLL
ROBBER BAND IS ARRESTED

Strange Trick of Fate Gave Clue to Identity of Men Who Took Money at Springfield, Mo.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 25.—Albert L. "Red" Hollywood, alleged leader of the gang that committed the $20,500 Payroll robbery yesterday in Springfield, Wash., according to a communication received by the police. Three others have been sentenced to serve 25 years in prison.

A strange trick of fate gave the officers a clue as to the identity of the robber gang. After chasing their Marmon automobile through the Ozark hills for several days, possemen came upon the home of Mark Langfitt, a mountaineer, living near Lin Creek. The officers had been informed that Langfitt and his wife had purchased gasoline at the village grocery, although they had no automobile. Langfitt admitted purchasing gasoline, but said it was for his son-in-law, "Red" Hollywood, who had driven up to the place in a large touring car with four other men.

He was not aware that the men were wanted for robbery and gave the officers a description of the men, resulting in the arrest of Jim Stewart, member of a Kansas City gang, in Jefferson City. After being confined in the county jail in Springfield for several months, Stewart made a complete confession to Sheriff Harris, resulting in the arrest of the other gang members.

Nourishine is a real tonic, which feeds and nourishes the hair, thus restoring it to its original vitality. It is used and endorsed by thousands of men and women. As a dandruff remover alone it is worth many times the price asked. One bottle usually is effective. CHAUFFEUR HELD FOR KILLING OF CHILD

Criminal Carelessness Verdict
Against Alfred Barron —
Bond of $10,000 Fixed

A coroner's verdict of criminal carelessness, holding Alfred Barron, 19 years old, 1129 Locust street, a chauffeur, for action of the grand jury under $10,000 bond, was returned today in the case of Genevieve Krabowicki, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Krabowicki, of 1414 North Tenth street.
The child was killed at 3:45 p. m. yesterday, when struck in front of 419 North Tenth street by an automobile truck driven by Barron as she ran into the street after a ball.
Barron did not testify at the inquest. He told police last night he was driving about 12 miles an hour. He said he saw the girl start after the ball, but that she stopped when he sounded his horn. He said she then suddenly darted into the path of the automobile. Barron is a chauffeur for John Salvo, a grocer, of 1236 Franklin avenue.
George L. Hall, 3112 Allen avenue, president of the Hill Packing Co.; Ray Dombach, proprietor of a soft drink stand, and Jessie Reinach, all of whom witnessed the accident, testified at the inquest that Barron was traveling at a high rate of speed. Hall estimated the speed at 20 to 25 miles an hour. Dombach said he thought it was 25 miles an hour.
Hall told police he stepped off the distance the child was thrown by the truck, finding it to be six steps. A patrolman reported that the truck went 50 feet before it stopped after striking the child.
Dr. Joseph Nawrocki, 1428 North Ninth street, who was passing at the time of the accident, went to the aid of the child, but found she had died almost instantly of fracture of the skull.

Five Injured in Automobile Accidents in Day

Henrietta Latzel, 4 years old, 3906 Louisiana avenue, is at St. Ann's Hospital in a critical condition, as a result of being struck yesterday by an automobile in front of her home when she ran into the street to recover a ball.
Arthur Knicker, 27, of 2406 Argington avenue, and James MacDonaid, 27, of 2712 Delmar boulevard, are in City Hospital in a serious condition as a result of an accident in which the motorcycle and side car in which they were riding was struck by an automobile at the west gate of Tower Grove Park at 11:30 p. m. The automobile driver did not stop.
Others injured in automobile accidents were: Mrs. Minnie Newhill, 58, of 2524 North Eleventh street, fracture of the right leg suffered in a fall while alighting from an automobile; Clara M. Hare, 5, of 3929 North Ninth street, cuts on head and body, struck by a truck at Eleventh and Salisbury streets.

STATE APPROPRIATIONS CUT TO $16,500,000

Governor Vetoes Some and Holds Up Other Expenditures
Authorized by Legislature.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 25.—Gov. Hyde today signed house bill number 670, known as the contingent bill, which carried items totaling approximately $9,400,000 of which the Governor will hold up items totaling $450,000. With the Governor's action upon this bill, he has vetoed and held up items of expenditure authorized by the Legislature aggregating $3,711,211, in an effort to hold the prospective disbursements of the State government within the expected revenues.

The appropriations, as passed by the Legislature, aggregated about $12,000,000, according to figures obtained from the State Treasurer's office, which, after the pruning will amount to about $16,500,000.

Written Releases Required.

In addition to the $1,000,000 for the State educational institutions held up by the Governor and $624,000 for the State eleemosynary institutions, he has ordered the State Auditor not to authorize payments except upon written releases from the chief executive from other funds as follows:

Insurance Department, $20,000; Department of Education, $14,200; Board of Health, $100,000; Penal Institutions, $90,000; Federal Soldiers Home, $20,000; School for Deaf and Dumb, $30,350; State Fair, $52,500; Board of Agriculture, $7000; Blind Commission, $10,000; Board of Charities and Corrections, $72,000; Public Service Commission, $75,000.

In passing upon the general contingent bill Gov. Hyde approved the distribution of $233,400 among county treasurers of the State at the rate of $200 to the county for the publication of three proposed amendments to the State Constitution and 14 initiative and referendum propositions prior to the election in November, 1932, although there is no legal ground for publishing the initiative and referendum propositions. The Governor approved this item without comment, although in approving it from of $143,241 in 1931, which had been incurred by a Democratic Secretary of State, John L. Sullivan, Hyde wrote that he allowed the payment only because the credit of the State had been pledged, for he was satisfied that few country papers in the State would charge a private concern more than $50 a page, especially when there was no type-setting to be done.

Hyde wrote further that "I cannot pass the matter without calling attention of the people of the State to such gross abuse of power, lodged by law in a public official. Yet he or Secretary of State Becker, a Republican, trailed in Sullivan's footsteps, let this same brand of printing at the maximum rate possible under the law and Hyde signed without a protest. Most of the money distributed by Becker went to Republican papers.

The Governor vetoed two sections of the bill, however, carrying $425,000 for the payment of back and current pensions to Confederate soldiers. Hyde declared that the lack of funds with which to meet drafts absolutely precluded payment and said that even if the money were available payment of such pensions would be wrong.

View of Confederate Pensions.

It is perfectly evident, wrote the Governor, "that pensions for any purpose are clearly unconstitutional unless special amendments to the Constitution are first obtained, as was done by the blind in order to validate blind pensions. Those pensions are paid out of a special levy and do not affect the general revenue fund. If appropriations for Confederate pensions are ever to be validated an amendment to the Constitution, similar to that obtained by the blind, should be obtained by those entitled as a matter of record as Confederate soldiers.

Gov. Hyde vetoed items appropriating $25,000 for co-operation with the Federal Government in vocational rehabilitation work, $29,000 for payment of bounties on wolf scalps and bounties of $5000 on the State naval reserves, $20,841 for back salaries for former members of the State Grain Inspection Department, $25,000 for the payment of premiums to county fairs, $20,000 for completion of the records of veterans of the Civil Spanish and World Wars and numerous small relief appropriations.

ROBBERY DEFENDANT WHO FORFEITED BOND NOW IN JAIL

The $1000 bond of Eugene (Slim) Harris, which was forfeited March 22 when he failed to appear for a second trial following conviction of a charge of first-degree robbery, was increased to $10,000 yesterday by Circuit Judge Grimm, who demanded new sureties.

When Harris failed to furnish a satisfactory bond he was ordered to jail.

Harris had been convicted of the robbery of Murf F. Maple, a druggist at Vandeventer avenue and Olive street, and had been sentenced to five years in prison. He obtained a new trial.

He was arrested the night of April 11 when detectives found him at the City Hospital with a bullet wound in the hip. He was questioned about the murder of "Lucky Bill" Brown, who was shot the same night in his flat at 1429A Chouteau avenue. Harris later was released from the hospital on a $10,000 bond to appear as a witness at the Brown inquest. The bond expired yesterday. Harris told Judge Grimm he was in another courtroom at the Municipal Courts

Condensed milk restores half-starved children to health and strength

— read what Dr Curran says:

THE Near East Relief is appealing to the people of St. Louis for condensed milk to aid it in the fight against malnutrition, starvation and disease among the children of the Near East countries.

They have found through several years of work that condensed milk is their one dependable life saver. Dr. Curran, Associate Director of the Near East Relief, tells, in the letter on this page, some of the reasons why.

Give one or two or three cans—as many as possible

Anybody can afford to give a can of Eagle Brand Condensed Milk to the Near East Relief. Here is a chance for practical giving. You don't have to give money. Give the Eagle Brand itself.

The Borden Company, maker of Eagle Brand Condensed Milk, has agreed to give Eagle Brand to the Near East Relief in proportion to the Eagle Brand you give. Get into the spirit of this campaign and make it the success which the Near East Relief deserves.

Scientific experiments show value of Eagle Brand for malnutrition

The actual experiences of the Near East Relief in feeding condensed milk to millions of children have shown its value for the treatment of malnutrition.

Dr. Curran says: "I wish there was some way that the people of the United States could learn of the great value of condensed milk."

Scientific experiments conducted with Eagle Brand by the Nutrition Department of the Borden Company show results that will amaze you. American children suffer from malnutrition, too. In fact, 6,000,000 of our own school children are actually undernourished. Hundreds of these have been observed by the Nutrition Department of the Borden Company and have shown remarkable progress when fed on Eagle Brand and trained in health habits.

Why Eagle Brand is superior

Eagle Brand Condensed Milk is the only condensed or evaporated milk which is produced especially for the feeding of children. It has been famous as a baby food for years, because it is the purest milk obtainable.

The milk which is reserved just for the making of Eagle Brand is of special quality, carefully blended to give the right butter fat content. It is handled with a care that is rarely equalled anywhere even in this day of sanitation. This special grade of milk is then combined with the purest cane sugar in a way that makes it exceptionally digestible.

Eagle Brand contains factors vital to the health and growth of children. It is exceptionally rich in energy producing foods, which the body must have.

It contributes protein or body building material as well as the vitamins which aid in promoting and regulating growth.

With the use of Eagle Brand diluted to a special malnutrition formula, in conjunction with health rules, any underweight child will improve wonderfully. The weight of a child is the surest indication of his state of health. If you have children in your own family who are underweight, you can restore them to health and vigor with the use of Eagle Brand. Add it to their regular diet, in mid-morning feedings. Use two level tablespoonfuls of Eagle Brand to three-fourths of a cup of cold water. Give the child as much as he wants diluted in this proportion.

The same qualities in Eagle Brand which make it the best condensed milk for use with your own children, also make it the most useful and valuable brand you can give to the Near East Relief.

If you are going to give to the Near East, make your gift right. Don't send an inferior product. It is too much like cutting the buttons off the garments that go into the missionary barrel! Give those little children over there the very best you can give.

Attention Mr. W. F. Tuttle

Gentlemen:

No finer expression of cooperation has been received by Near East Relief than the offer recently made by your company. Your assistance in our present campaign in Syracuse, in helping us to raise 100,000 cans of condensed milk, will go far to meet the tremendous need at this crucial time, in the Near East.

Our experience with 115,000 orphan children of the Near East shows that there is no more valuable food than condensed milk for restoring half-starved children to health and strength. Our overseas workers report that they can not obtain enough of it, and from my personal experience it has been the means of actually saving children's lives in the Near East.

In the area where the Near East Relief is operating, milk producing animals are tubercular, and we cannot depend upon that source of milk supply. In a recent evacuation of refugees canned milk was of great help because of its concentrated food value. Many of the refugees were compelled to travel for days at a time with no other food to depend upon than a can of American condensed milk.

Anything that you can do to express our needs in your publicity, or through your agencies, along lines already suggested will be of inestimable value. Your contribution to our work in this way is highly appreciated.

Very truly yours,

57 Crippled Children Test to Escape at Medical Soc

Chance for Improvement of Cases, All From St. Physicians Brush Away

When the St. Louis Medical Society met last night to repeat its 125th anniversary celebration, it was frankly skeptical that there would be a large number of children who had been crippled and who had been treated. Established clinics and hospitals were thought to have "run out" and effected a maximum of improvement for virtually all the shut-ins of the city. The society was thought, must provide an opportunity for greatest improvement. The city children were well in hand.

When the second clinic at the Medical Society's building, 523 Pine street, opened yesterday, there had passed through a total of 57 children. All were from St. Louis. Virtually none had had previous treatment. None had passed through the 1922 clinic. In 30 per cent of the cases there was found to be a chance for improvement, ranging from fractional to complete physical regeneration.

There were untouched cases of high feet, of bow legs, of knock knees, all essentially simple operations made for restoration of normality or close approach to it. There were more than 45 cases of useless arms and legs, the aftermath of infantile paralysis in which massage, braces or operations can reasonably be expected to increase self-reliance at least, to prevent further deformity and increased helplessness, which ensues when those cases are neglected. These were cases of congenital hip dislocations in children of parents who had believed that the misfortune was something that Nature had inflicted and, though cruel, must be accepted. They learned in the clinic that the dislocation could be reduced and the limb restored to its normal ability to develop. No need of any child, if taken early enough, facing the calamity of going through life with one leg shorter than the other.

Canned Milk Lacks Bone Tissue. There were other cases of infants, crippled who because of ignorance of the parents, slowly are developing into helplessness. And head-aches. As an example, this 27-month-old boy, a happy, healthy-looking boy, but the mother anxious to relate that his legs are bowing and he can scarcely walk. "Will an operation be necessary?" A few questions and it is established the mother has fed the baby since childhood on canned milk. Not sufficient food value there to provide him with bone tissue. No operation, proper feeding, maybe a brace, and that child's legs will return to shape. The lesson of it is that the father is not unknown locally for his child's weakness—a long distance runner and later the war an aviator. His son remained from the ranks of crippled.

Still another wearing orthopedic shoes. "It looks getting worse," the mother relates of the little girl. "Throw the shoes away and let us see what we tell you carefully she will be alright," is the instruction. Over and over again, the examining physicians brush away anxiety of parents who through ignorance of the facilities that exist in St. Louis

MEXICO APPOINTS HER DIPLOMATIC MISSION

Ramon Ross, Friend of Obregon, and Fernando Roa Will Meet With Americans.

The Associated Press. MEXICO CITY, April 25.—The Mexican members of the special commission which will consider the question of diplomatic relations between Mexico and the United States have been appointed. They are Ramon Ross, one of President Obregon's most intimate friends, and Fernando Roa, an attorney. Senator Ross was a member of the constituent assembly in 1917. He was Director-General of Public Instruction. Senator Roa was an Under-Secretary in the Mexican Government. He now is general counsel for the National Railway Lines and a member of the board of directors.

Commenting editorially upon the announcement from Washington of the appointment of special commissioners for the purpose of examining the differences between the Mexican and United States Governments and the hastening of a mutual understanding, the newspaper, El Nacional, says: "The simple publication of this news has served to arouse confidence and to stimulate the exercise of the reasoning and business men. A sense of optimism has spread throughout the country precisely at the moment when discouragement, despair, uncertainty and an anti-economic crisis prevailed throughout the republic, causing paralysis of our national development. The policy of gradual approximation

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Everybody's Business.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I read in the Post-Dispatch of April 12 of the meeting held to secure law enforcement. As this is the most important movement which can be made in the interest of good government, I wish to give publicity to an idea which might further that cause.

I conceive that our lawless condition is in truth only the result of the failure of voters to exercise their franchise rights, which allow control of government by a minority interested in selfish purposes. I suggest that the United States Chamber of Commerce form a branch of that organization to further good government, and to secure members who are not required to join the chamber of commerce and pay the full dues, but who will pay a nominal sum to pay for postage and printing of pamphlets to be distributed among the members of the good government branch. Members should pledge that they would vote at every primary and every election and that they would nominate or endorse candidates for every office on both Republican and Democratic tickets, and would serve as nominees if called on by the club if possible to do so. Also that each member pledge that he would not evade jury duty, but endeavor to serve once a year. Also that each member would pledge himself not to use his personal influence to have acquaintances dismissed from court when such had been arrested for any valid reason.

That each member pledge that he would not seek legislation that was for personal benefit and unjust to the community. That he would support the officers of the law in their duties. The organization to have a committee to report on negligence of duty and incompetence in office, and to publish such facts if not corrected, prior to the primaries and to vote against such officers. That the organization seek that instruction be given in public schools on the duties of citizenship and the benefits of good government. A respectable, conscientious minority of business men and women can run the self-interest political minority now in control of government and cause the officeholder to attend to his duties, thereby creating real protection of law for the poor and the honest.

With an aroused and active veteran organization of bipartisan nature devoted to good government, correction in laws will follow.

Our Government stands as a failure today with the criminals in control and with most legislation of a class or self-seeking character. Until the citizen can recognize his own interests as served by serving the law, we will fail to reach a state that will result in a balanced government or a monarchy. As it stands, what is everybody's business is nobody's business, and it is up to the thinking business man to change this condition.

CITIZEN.

Shocking Jury Service.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I would like to know if the law enforces certain individuals from jury service. I have never seen any of our bank presidents or any of our influential citizens on a criminal or civil jury. Why is it? Are they excused under the law? Some persons will tell you that they have served on a jury, and they have lived in St. Louis all their lives. Others will tell you they have some ready politician fix it up for them.

JURY TIED.

The Klan's Conviction.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I note with interest the letter by Rev. Charles D. McDevine, and while I feel it is a waste of precious time to even argue, I just wish to make this comment: The only reason there were no convictions of Klansmen at Bismarck, Ia., is because there were members of the Klan in the grand jury. It is about the same thing as we have right here in St. Louis with the gangsters. Put a couple of gangsters or their friends on the jury and it is impossible to secure a conviction.

I am not a Catholic. I belong to no church whatever, but once in a while attend some church or other just to get the different views of different religious organizations, and I can truthfully say that in all my experience I have never heard a Catholic priest denounce any faith but his own, and I cannot say as much for the Protestant churches. Is this not supposed to be a country of freedom, where each individual can follow his own calling? Then why start a religious war?

To my way of thinking, the only difference between the Klan and the gangs is that gangsters fight among themselves, while the Klan finds some helpless victims.

E. E. N.

Evolution and the Bible.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
BROTHER BRYAN is greatly worried because the teaching of evolution in our schools is shattering the faith of students in the Bible as an infallible book because if you accept evolution as being true, you cannot believe that the Bible is entirely without error. But if we inquire carefully we shall find that, even if we reject evolution, we still shall have difficulty in accepting everything the Bible says. The Bible itself is the best proof of its own fallibility or infallibility.

CHARLES P. BULLOWAY.

THE PARTY'S WORD.

President Harding's address to the members of the Associated Press was, as forecast, devoted almost wholly to his proposal that the United States join the World Court. The political reactions to this proposal were frankly acknowledged, and the extremists on both sides—those who hopefully and those who fearfully perceive in it a move towards the League of Nations—were assured that their hopes and fears are, alike, unfounded.

The speech manifestly was an effort to effect solidarity in the Republican party for our adhesion to the World Court. The President presented his case with unusual candor and firmness. If his premise be granted that party platforms express the sentiments and purposes of parties, Mr. Harding has briefed Republican opposition to his plan out of court. Beginning with 1904 the Republican party has quadrennially pledged itself to support a tribunal which could pass upon justiciable questions between nations. A project that has 29 years of reiterated commitment behind it would seem to have passed out of the area of controversy and entered into the domain of party tradition and historic policy. With such unanswerable citations Mr. Harding sums up his case against the objectors to his proposal within his party.

It is possible, of course, that in the minds of his audience demurrers were filed to the speaker's high conception of the sanctity and sincerity of party platforms. One need not be a cynic to affirm that party platforms are too often dictated by expediency, drafted as they are by practical politicians who are chiefly, if not solely, concerned with winning the election. These practical politicians can wave the flag eloquently. They can rush intrepidly in where there is no possibility of danger. But where occasion requires discretion they can straddle consummately and roar as gently as a sucking dove. This being so, it is small wonder that the impression obtains that party platforms have become campaign devices rather than administration charters. And to that unhappy descent in party practice and morals may partly be traced the fading party prestige and waning party loyalty of which Mr. Harding made a sort of footnote complaint.

Nevertheless, when a party in five consecutive national conventions declares its fidelity to a definite course of action how may it escape the charge of bad faith if it refuses to keep its pledge when the opportunity for doing so at last presents itself? That is the question Mr. Harding submits to his party. In elaborating his argument he made a somewhat invidious distinction between the World Court and the Council of the League of Nations. He believes profoundly in the probity and impartiality of the Judges of the World Court, but thinks the diplomats and politicians representing the nations in the League's Council would be governed by selfish considerations and national interests. By what magic the World Court's serene would confer upon its wearers a capacity and character so vastly superior to that of the member of the Council Mr. Harding does not say. It may be remarked, too, that the Council has already passed upon momentous and involved issues with a fairness and fearlessness which no court could surpass. Perhaps Mr. Harding felt obliged to justify his opposition to the League. That may explain an obiter dictum that might better have been omitted. And when on the ground of sportsmanship, he asked how we could accept the benefits of the World Court without incurring any of its obligations he invited the rejoinder that in our separate peace treaty with Germany, which he extols, we specifically inked upon every advantage vouchsafed to us by the treaty of Versailles while explicitly renouncing the obligations of that instrument.

Despite its weaknesses, though, the President's speech is, on the whole, praiseworthy. His hope that party politics may rise above the level of expediency to sound principle and a determination to serve the public weal is admirable. And there can be no question that Mr. Harding has shown the Republican party to be committed in honor and repeated avowals to adhere to and help maintain the International Court of Justice which, as he confesses, has come into being and been made a functioning, perpetuating tribunal by the machinery of the League of Nations. Along with the compulsion of honor is the ineluctable service such a court can render humanity in the cause of peace and justice.

SUCCOR:

(From the Brooklyn Eagle.)

9 MORE SMALL DAIRIES HELD TO BE UNSANITARY

Council and Members of Citizens' Milk Committee Visit Places Within City Limits.

Conditions intimating the production of pure or clean milk were found by Director of Public Welfare Council and members of the Citizens' Milk Committee, representing about 25 civic organizations, who yesterday visited nine small dairies which are enabled to sell raw milk through a legal fight against the ordinance compelling pasteurization.

There are now 55 such dairies in the city. Some 15 or 20 have gone out of existence since the first of the year, and others are expected to follow. New licenses are not issued to them, and the final blow is planned in an ordinance projected by the citizens' committee to prohibit the keeping of cows within the city limits.

The places visited, with one exception, apparently were fragments of old farms, and the buildings which housed the dairy seemed incredibly old. With one exception the cows, averaging about 15 in number, had access to the open air only in a small lot, which becomes an active nuisance in the neighborhood in hot, wet weather.

In some of the stables these appeared evidences of defilement, it not quite successful efforts at cleanliness, but others were considerably below the par of sanitation. None was well lighted or well aired, and some were dark and close. No protection against flies or blown particles of dirt was observed. An open outhouse generally was near the stable.

Virtually all such small dairymen keep their cows only a year, selling them to the East Side stockyards for slaughter purposes. Herds are tested for tuberculosis by the State once a year if there are no reactors, or twice a year if any cows show tuberculosis. Virtually all these are tested twice a year.

The first inspection was the dairy of Charles Damm, 2143 Victor street, which supplies milk to the House of the Good Shepherd. There were chickens in the yard about the open stable. Mrs. M. G. Seelig, chairman of the Citizens' Committee, who has made many such tours, said the cows were cleaner than most.

Going Out of Business.
Henry Bartels, 2814 Iowa avenue, said he was going out of business. He sells to a plant which pasteurizes. The same sort of business is conducted by Herman Kraemer, 2821 Ohio avenue.

Apparently the newest buildings were those of Mrs. George Enger, 2421 Oregon avenue. This concern sells raw milk at retail prices, seeming to be used in handling the milk and sterilizing bottles. The plant of Bernard Wilken, across the street at 2428 Oregon, was inspected. The milk is brought from Illinois and is pasteurized at the plant. A night's milking or the following morning's comes in on a morning train, is pasteurized, and is distributed the next morning. The concrete floor of the dark little plant was badly worn, and a man who was washing it with a hose was having difficulty.

Barney Dick, 2114 California avenue, sells to a pasteurizing plant, and also to St. Mary's Infirmary, where the milk, used in cooking, is prepared under physician's orders. Members of the party who had received an unusual number of complaints about the dairy of Mrs. Angelo Filippino, 3113 Ohio avenue, were surprised to find a moderately well lighted, fairly clean stable. Mrs. Filippino said she wanted to quit as soon as she could dispose of her herd.

Outhouse Adjoins Cow Barn.

The herd of Oscar Woll, 3446 Potomac street, was housed in a well-lighted but stinky barn. An outhouse adjoined one section. Woll plans to install a pasteurizer. An outhouse also contained an ice box and a power-driven ice cream freezer. Mrs. Woll said they had made ice cream for their own use for years, pending installation of the pasteurizer.

The Woll Brothers' stable, 3326 Arkansas avenue, was particularly stuffy, with a low roof to the south. A man came out of the stable carrying a pail that was filthy on the outside, at least, went into another shed, opening several barn doors, came back, set the pail down in the not over-clean floor of a stall, and without washing his hands dampened a cow's udders with milk and began to milk her. No phase of that procedure is confined to the one establishment.

Georgian Kersen, 2703 Adams street, with about the most dilapidated stable, has a 12-acre field in which the cows are kept except at milking time. Milking and bedding, however, are done in these old buildings, where sanitation would be a pathetic absurdity—as in several of the places visited. Kersen said he was going out of business.

City Veterinarian J. Henry Faust, in charge of stables on the South Side, said that 22 of 35 stables operated in his district a few months ago have gone out of business, and six more were planning to quit. Most of them, he said, cannot afford to install a pasteurizer.

AMERICAN HISTORY FOR CHILDREN

Danger of War With Germany During Cleveland's
First Term Was Averted by a Windstorm in Samoa.

THE STORM.

By HENDRIK VAN LOON,
Author of "The Story of Mankind."

It was during President Cleveland's first administration that the United States came to the very verge of war with Germany, the danger being averted at the last moment by a mighty windstorm. It all came about in this way:

Between San Francisco and Australia lies a little group of islands called Samoa. Hither, about the middle of the nineteenth century, came American, English and German traders, who all set down peacefully together. Now the Samoans are of a quarrelsome disposition, and perpetually at war with one another. But they observed that the foreign traders seemed to get through life quite well without fighting, and so at last, tired of perpetual war, they asked the United States to please accept the islands and give them a quiet and peaceful government.

In those days the idea of "foreign possessions" held no appeal for Americans. Our own country was quite big enough for us. A bunch of islands far off in the Pacific Ocean would be simply a care and expense, and we refused the offer. However, we accepted a coaling station at Pago-Pago, on the island of Tutuila, and promised to protect the Samoans against any other nation. The Samoans, feeling that three protectors would be better than one, extracted similar promises from England and Germany. But the price paid for protection by Samoa to Germany was greater than the price paid to either America or England. This made the latter countries jealous, and they began to speak of "German aggressiveness."

There now appeared upon the scene an ambitious young Samoan, named Tamasese, who claimed to be the rightful heir to the throne occupied by King Malietoa. The Germans supported Tamasese's claim and in April, 1886, three German war ships arrived to help him get his throne. The English and the American traders rallied to the support of Malietoa, but the German Consul, safe beneath the threatening guns of his war ships, deposed Malietoa and installed Tamasese in his place. Then Malietoa and his English and American sympathizers started a counter revolution, and a spirited little war followed, in which the German ships took an active part.

All this time, diplomats from America, England and Germany were trying to decide how and by whom Samoa should be governed, but they were unable to reach any conclusion agreeable to all parties.

Meanwhile, war ships from the three nations hung around the islands. At last, in January, 1889, some armed Germans in the town of Apia seized the American flag. This was a serious matter, and although the Germans gave the flag back, another American ship, the Trenton, was ordered to Samoa. When she entered the harbor of Apia she found lying there, ready for immediate action, two other American ships, one British man-of-war, and three German vessels. Each seemed waiting for the other to fire the first shot. Then suddenly, a great hurricane broke over the harbor of Apia, in the sudden way hurricanes have in the South Seas, and in a short time six of the seven vessels were piled up upon the beach. The British ship alone managed to steam out to sea, away from the dangerous coast line.

This put a most effective end to any thought of naval warfare around Samoa for some time to come, and the next month gentlemen from Washington, from Downing street and from the Wilhelmstrasse met in Berlin, where Germany at last resigned her hope of acquiring the islands for her own private possession, and agreed to remain as one member of the triple protectorate.

Much later, in 1900, England withdrew from Samoa altogether, the United States took over the island of Tutuila, and the rest of the group was finally given to Germany.

HOW DANCER AND SAILOR DIFFER

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 25.—Eight pairs of dancers here have learned what an old salt means when he talks about "sea legs."

The eight couples started dancing at midnight Monday, and at noon yesterday had reached 12 hours and the disapproval of the police. They were ordered either to stop or get out of the State, so they decided to go to sea. The plan was 12 hours at sea, 12 on land, alternately. They loaded up a plank to a truck and then over a gangplank to a dock.

The deck was that of a fishing smack. The seas were unusually heavy, so the smack only went out beyond Rockaway. Within six hours the statisticians had abandoned their vigil to hold heads. The bounding main was too bounding. At 9 o'clock the dancers, cold, tired and disillusioned, were helped off the boat. They didn't have sea legs; they didn't have anything.

Former East St. Louisan Killed.

Sent to the Post-Dispatch.

ANNA, 111 April 25.—Rad Crawford, member of a Jonesboro, Mo., & Co.

section crew, died in a hospital here today as a result of a peculiar railroad accident yesterday. A piece of steel on his handcar fell off while the car was running at a rapid speed down a grade. One end of the steel struck the end of a tie and the other end pierced Crawford's abdomen. He had just exchanged places on the car with another member of the crew.

Crawford formerly lived in East St. Louis. He is survived by a family and his mother, who is 85 years old.

BONDS GIVEN FOR 4 MEN HELD FOR MAIL ROBBERY

Doering and Others Released When Bail of $25,000 Each Is Furnished—One Still in Jail

Bonds of $25,000 each yesterday were given by seven qualified bondsmen for the release of William F. (Whitey) Doering, Ray Bernard and Edward Linehan, Egan gangsters, and David Weisman of Johnson City, Ill., four of the five men held Monday for a daring mail truck hold-up near April 2.

William F. Doering, 23, 21st street, St. Louis County, where most of the mail hold-up was recovered, was unable to furnish bond.

Doering and Linehan were released immediately upon their release and taken to St. Louis County, where they were arraigned on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. They were arrested last Thursday in front of the Clayton Court-house, during the trial of William F. (Whitey) Doering, Egan gang leader and member of the Egan-Doering City Committee after a revolver had been found in their automobile. They were released on $10,000 each, secured by Albert Henkel, and their trial was set for May 1.

Doering and the bondsmen yesterday appeared before United States Commissioner Atkins, who left a date open for a return on the bonds. Atkins stated that he would set a date after conferring with attorneys for the accused men. Doering's bond was signed by John J. Kelly and Henry Henning. Bonds of the other three were signed by Clarence (Red) Brown, Jack Keegan, Ben (Red) Allen and Charles Summers.

Attorneys for the accused men are Thomas H. Harver, former circuit attorney, and William B. Hart, former assistant circuit attorney, of the firm of Harver & Hart.

BRITISH BANKER'S PLAN FOR U. S. TO AID ON REPARATIONS

Goodenough Suggests We Reinvest in German Paper Securities

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 22.—A suggestion that the agreement on the terms of payment of the British debt to the United States might lead to settlement of the German reparations problem was made today by Frederick C. Goodenough, chairman of Barclay's Bank, England, in an address before the Executive Committee of the American Bankers' Association.

Reinvestment of the securities America receives from Great Britain in securities offered by the German Government would lead to an eventual solution of the reparations problem, he declared.

Pointing out that Germany would require credit, Goodenough said that if Great Britain and America were prepared to co-operate, "as a purely financial proposition," it would be at least a portion of the initial sum required, a satisfactory arrangement as to the length of time for a moratorium would be a comparatively easy matter.

I should like to refer to the case of Austria as an example of co-operative effort. We consider the bonds to be issued by that country will come a very reasonable security, yielding a good rate of interest. The placing of these bonds should enable Austria to recover from the desperate condition into which she fell and again to become a financial center of that part of the world.

Should this credit, credit benefits would accrue to those interested in foreign trade.

CZECH-HUNGARIAN CONTROVERSY

Former Government Closes Frontiers to Hungarians

VIENNA, April 22.—Repealing sentences on the Czech-Hungarian border have ended the killing of a Czech-Slovak customs official and a serious conflict between the two Governments. The political result is especially regrettable as it ends the long-suffering of a peaceful settlement between the two countries.

Both have adopted far-reaching measures of restriction. Czech-Slovakia has hermetically closed its frontiers to Hungarian subjects and has expelled all Hungarian noblemen from Czech territory. Prague also suspended further application of Hungarian citizens from Czechoslovakia and Ruthenia. Monday at the frontier all Hungarian passengers on the Budapest-Berlin express were compelled to quit the train. They were not even allowed to pass through Czechoslovakia en route to Germany. Hungary will take similar steps.

Rattling Window Sets Off Alarm. The wind rattling an open window set off a burglar alarm in the home of Maurice M. Kneibitz, 3812 S. South street, St. Louis, at 8 p. m. today, causing a fierce call to be sent to the Mounted District Police Station. Kneibitz is out of the house and members of the family at home awakened by the alarm after the house had been searched. The police could find no traces of burglars.

Justice M. G. McGreegor III, in the Associated Press, Springfield, Mo., April 22, Judge M. G. McGreegor is currently in St. Louis and was expected to be in the city today. Judge McGreegor was in the city today, but was not expected to be in the city today. Judge McGreegor was in the city today, but was not expected to be in the city today.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyer's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and tired nerves.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not irritate calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative. No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-oil coated tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action. If you have a "dark brown mouth" (bad breath), full, tired feeling—weak head—sleeplessness—constipation—indigestion—flatulence, and all these results from the action of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take them every night to keep their bowels in good order. The price, 10c and 50c.

If You Handle Money, Use Lifebuoy Regularly

A soiled dollar bill, under a microscope, is an evil sight. Cashiers know its danger. But everyone is exposed to the menace of dirty money.

Any slight skin abrasion may become infected. But more serious still is the habit so many people have of touching mouth, nose, eyes and hair with their hands, thus exposing the body to disease germs.

It is advisable for those who frequently handle money to protect health by keeping hands antiseptically pure with Lifebuoy Health Soap. Always use it before eating and before touching your wife and children.

The rich, creamy, sanative lather of Lifebuoy penetrates deeply into every pore, thoroughly rinsing out impurities, deodorizing, and leaving only the antiseptic protection of Lifebuoy.

Spring Find You Feeling Miserable?

Do You Suffer Constant Backache and Feel Tired, Weak and Utterly Worn-out? Then Look to Your Kidneys!

ARE you discouraged with your condition this spring? Do you wonder why, with all nature at her best, you should feel so worn-out and miserable? There must be a cause! What is it?

How about your kidneys? Have you given them any thought? Likely you haven't. But weak kidneys are very often responsible for this unhappy state.

Winter throws a heavy burden on the kidneys. You eat heavier food, drink less water, and take less exercise. This means more work for the kidneys. Add, then, the strain of winter's colds and chills, and it's little wonder the kidneys weaken and fall behind in filtering these extra poisons from the blood.

That's why spring finds so many folks with backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, and distressing kidney irregularities. Usually these early symptoms are easy to correct—delay may pave the way to gravel, dropsy or Bright's disease.

Don't risk serious kidney sickness. Use Doan's Kidney Pills before it is too late. Doan's have brought health and strength to thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's" Say These St. Louis Folks:

GEO. EDDY, Molder, 3943 Lee Av.
"I have been a molder and there is nothing more tiring on the kidneys than this kind of work. I had such backache which made it difficult to work. As I have told through my kidneys and back, I have used Doan's Kidney Pills for this trouble. They always cured my attacks and I can now mold without any trouble."

STOCK PRICES ARE GENERALLY UP ON NEW YORK MARKET

Railroad Shares Are Irregular—First March Returns Made—Bonds Firm Led by Foreign.

By Leonard Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 25.—Following is the official list of transactions on the New York Stock Exchange today up to 1:30 p. m.

With activity moderately increased, today's market disclosed a continuation of the tendency toward a wider underdone. Active covering of shorts was on in the cotton market and while the bear party kept no sign of wanting a retreat in stocks, it was not as strong as it was in the cotton market. A few of the weaker issues were subjected to pressure but most issues were fractionally higher on the day. It was irregular with the first nine months statements for March showing net earnings 2.52 per cent on valuation. Bonds remained firm with foreign strong and call money again held at 4 1/2 per cent.

French Exchange Strong.—Strength in French francs continued to be the feature of the foreign exchange market, trading generally being on a moderate scale. France was in London at a 6 1/2% rate and although all of this advance was held on this side of the water, the net gain on the day amounted to 1/2 point at 6 1/2% rate. Sterling which was 1/2 of a cent below the previous close, German marks recovered 3 points at 8.85 of a cent and most of the other continentals were firm. A reaction of 28 points in Norwegian kroner was accompanied by reports of banking troubles in Christiania.

Steel Industry Situation.—Midwest reports on the steel industry show that no appreciable change has taken place in the situation. Three months of heavy production and a greater willingness on the part of the steel companies to accept business has, according to the Iron Age, taken the fever out of the market and checked the scramble to hold of steel by paying premiums. Production, however, continues to hold at recent high levels and consumption is reported to be unimpaired. Steel producers are stated to be booked up well into the third quarter and many companies are said to have contracted to supply their needs for from three to six months ahead. This being the case, it seems fairly clear that the steel industry is in a position to meet the demand for steel for the next six months.

Scrap Iron and Rubber.—Scrap iron and rubber prices were generally higher today. Scrap iron prices were higher for all grades and rubber prices were higher for all grades.

News and Comment
—SPECIAL DAILY—A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 25.—The United States Steel Corporation's report on the effect of steel shares was the subject of conversation in the stock market today.

The report was expected to be disappointing because the market had been expecting a report that would show a profit for the first quarter. Steel shares opened up a point, went down to 106 1/2, and then moved sharply forward.

The matter of fact the results for the first quarter were about what had been anticipated and as a result, now when anything favorable comes along, it is expected to be fully absorbed. It proved to have been fully absorbed.

There were few particularly striking features among the individual stock movements. Oil shares were the subject of the market, still being the subject of the market, still being the subject of the market.

The market had been taken to curtail the California production which is the thing that has reacted against the market during the last two or three months. Later on the oil market moved with more uncertainty, it still could be said that sentiment toward them was improved.

Bullish sales promptly absorbed the market. Steel shares promptly absorbed the market. Steel shares promptly absorbed the market.

The bond market. The bond market continued its advance, but it was particularly true of the bond market, the direct obligations of the Government and the provincial and municipal issues alike.

The Common Sense
Way to Get 7% Interest

It is a perfectly simple matter for any investor, whether experienced or not, to obtain 7% interest year after year, and have his principal returned to him promptly on the day it is due. There is no mystery about this liberal return. It is based on common sense.

It is a well known fact that first mortgage bonds secured by income-earning real estate pay a good rate, and that these bonds have an enviable record of safety. It is also a well known fact that the general level of interest rates in the South is higher than in the older sections of the country, and that Southern first mortgage real estate bonds therefore offer the investor a return up to 7%.

All that anyone need do who is seeking a good return on his money is to look into first mortgage real estate bonds in general, and those secured by Southern properties in particular. We will be glad to send, free and without obligation, our booklet, "The Premier Investment," which gives the history and record of this type of security, with interesting information about Miller First Mortgage Bonds. FIND SUSPECT IN WEST IN $17,500 ROBBERY

Madison County Prosecutor to Ask for Extradition of Yaffe, Wanted in Express Holdup.

Extradition of Herman Yaffe, 23 years old, arrested at San Francisco yesterday as a suspect in the $17,500 holdup of an American Railway Express delivery wagon at Granite City, June 20, last, will be asked for immediately, State's Attorney Streuber announced at Edwardsville today.

Yaffe is under indictment. He is suspected of being the driver of the automobile in which five men escaped after taking a safe from the express wagon containing the semi-monthly payroll of the National Lead Co.

Yaffe is serving a full sentence in San Francisco on a charge of speeding. His arrest as a suspect in the Granite City holdup followed recognition of him by officials from pictures sent to all parts of the country. He refused to say whether he is the man wanted here.

Two St. Louis police characters, Clement Forrestal and James F. Taylor, have been convicted at Edwardsville in connection with the holdup and were sentenced to indeterminate terms in the penitentiary. Walter O'Malley, arrested in connection with the holdup, while out on bond participated in a Panama (Ill.) bank robbery for which he was convicted and sent to the penitentiary. Samuel Weiss, alleged owner of the automobile used by the holdup men, established an alibi and was acquitted at Edwardsville.

TURNER AND HALLIDAY NAMED IN NEW FORGERY INDICTMENT

Latest True Bill Intended as Substitute for One in Which Technical Flaws Were Found.

Harry Turner, 4111 Washington boulevard, and George V. Halliday, former broker, were indicted yesterday on a newly-stated charge of forgery in the third degree. In connection with the counterfeiting of $1,250,000 of interim receipts for French Government gold bonds, the indictment, which was returned by the grand jury at the instance of the Circuit Attorney's office, is intended to replace an earlier one, in which some possible technical flaws have appeared.

The Turner-Halliday case is set for a hearing next Monday before Judge Falkenhainer, and it is the Circuit Attorney's plan to substitute the new indictment for the other, if possible, without delaying the proceeding.

Winners in 'Four Square' Contest. A "Four square" contest which began March 4 between more than 50 local Bible classes, was won by the Bettie Mae Stockton class of Hamilton Avenue Christian Church. Third place went to the Young Men's B-Square class of the same church. Second place was won by the men's class of Fountain Park Congregational Church. Points were awarded under four captions: on a percentage basis, so that small classes could compete. The gains reported were: Enrollment, 48 per cent; class attendance, 24 per cent; Bible study, 62 per cent and church attendance, 52 per cent.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

The Chucks Have Neighbors

By Thornton W. Burgess

Do not let your joy intrude
On others, lest they think you rude.

—Johnny Chuck.

RAT-A-TAT-TAT-TAT-TAT! Rat-a-tat-tat-tat! Rat-a-tat-tat-tat! Johnny Chuck, who had been dozing on his doorstep, looked up and scowled. How could a fellow sleep with such a noise as that going on? There it was again. He knew who was making it, although he couldn't see him. It was Drummer the Woodpecker, and he was somewhere up in a big tree just a little way from the home of the Chucks. Johnny hadn't minded that noise so much at first, but now it was getting on his nerves. You see he had understood just what it was. It was Drummer's way of expressing joy. To Drummer it was music. Drummer couldn't sing, so this was the way he expressed his joy in spring.

But to Johnny Chuck it was just noise. He growled and grumbled to himself. Presently Polly Chuck joined him. "What is 'the matter with you?' she demanded. "Don't you hear that noise?" asked Johnny. Polly nodded. "Certainly. Of course," she said. "I would have to be deaf not to hear it. I judge by the sound that Drummer is feeling very fine this morning."

"He might think of his neighbors a little bit," growled Johnny. "If he wants to drum he ought to go off by himself."

"If you don't like the sound you don't have to hear it," retorted Polly Chuck. "You can go down inside the heartily, but regretted his words immediately, for, in an instant, the lady had rounded on him again. "Plain, indeed. And who made it plain, sir. Your very self and none other. By your numberless amours in Paris and by the reckless manner in which you made your name a byword of the countryside with your deep drinking and fast living. 'Tis no surprise that the Lady Gloria spurned you."

TO BE CONTINUED IN THE
POST-DISPATCH.

Each morning when Johnny came out to get his breakfast the first thing he would hear would be that rat-a-tat-tat-tat-tat.

he'll find a new drumming place soon."

But Drummer had no intention of looking for a new drumming place. There was a certain dead limb up in that tree that just suited him, and he drummed and drummed and drummed. Johnny Chuck had to stand it. You see there wasn't a thing in the world he could do about it. Each morning when Johnny came out to get his breakfast the first thing he would hear would be that rat-a-tat-tat-tat-tat.

But all things must end. One morning Johnny Chuck came out, and almost at once missed something. At first he didn't know what it was. Then it came to him. He missed that long roll of Drummer the Woodpecker. Could anything have happened to Drummer? Somehow now that he didn't hear that drumming, Johnny wished that he could hear it. He felt lonesome. Yes, sir, he felt lonesome. He kept listening and listening in the hope that he would hear Drummer somewhere in the distance.

But he didn't hear him, and for a very good reason; Drummer was too

What Sunshine Means to Every Mother and Baby

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator From New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

As I write today the sun is shining, the air is balmy and there is every temptation to be out of doors. Passing my window are half a dozen baby cabs, pushed by smiling mothers, and occupied by rosy-cheeked babies.

This is the beginning of a long season when the baby can be taken out of doors without any special effort on the part of the family. If the infant is to thrive he should have an abundance of fresh air all the time, night as well as day. In the winter the mother must sacrifice her comfort and perhaps struggle against her own inclination, in order to give baby the air. It won't be so hard now.

Men are more likely to get out of doors than women are. Their occupations demand travel. Naturally, therefore, they get sunshine and oxygen. Women should remember the features of open-air life, which are so valuable for the baby, are equally valuable for the mother, too. Any woman who will give herself a reasonable amount of life in the open will add much to her prospect of life and a lot to her beauty.

I feel sorry for the shackled and hampered women of the early Victorian period. The women of that time were clothed in such a way that physical freedom was lost.

The ideal dress is of such a style as to permit the freest possible movement of body and limbs. The abdominal organs and the breathing apparatus are unhampered and free from uncomfortable pressure. Shoes are fitted with reference to comfort and utility.

Many women hate to leave home on foot because they are uncomfortably dressed. Fit yourself out in such style as to be free from pinch or squeeze. Then go out with the baby for a happy excursion in the sunshine.

As soon as weather permits, spread a blanket on the ground and let the baby sprawl in the sun until really hot weather comes. It won't hurt the baby or the mother, either.

Why is it that a freckle frightens anybody? I would rather see a woman with 400 freckles and red lips than to see one with face free from freckles, as fair as marble, and the lips white as the face itself. Without sunshine the blood is robbed of essential replenishment. Even though the

PRIZE LAYER CAKE

ONE cup of sugar, one-half cup of butter, three eggs, one-half cup of milk, two cups of sifted flour, two teaspoons of baking powder and a little vanilla. Beat butter and sugar until creamy, then add yolks of eggs, and beat well, then the whites which have been beaten until stiff, and lastly the flour and baking powder. Sift flour and baking powder together before you add to cake, and beat it good. Be sure to sift flour before you measure, also use a measuring cup, for too much baking powder makes a cake coarse-grained.

sun has the effect of bringing out a freckle or two, you ought to be proud that your system has response enough to show color under its rays.

You see, I am mingling the effects of sun and air on mother and on child, because both need what they can give to a human being. I am almost as anxious to have the mother appreciate what the open can do for her, as I am to impress her with what it can do for her baby. Both will benefit by the daily experience.

Make a springtime resolution to store up so much energy and good health this summer that next winter will begin with a reserve of vigor that will carry mother and baby through without discomfort or illness.

"Ah, well," she observed, "I'm ma'am, and then again ter, 'tis plain you are smiling at me in riddle. There only remains the girl who I suppose you mean who with now."

"Aye," quoth Shale. "The lady who told me that sharp, keen little girl."

"Did she seem to be glad to see you?"

He looked at her thoughtfully, and stamped her foot.

"No riddles, boy, d'ye hear me. What mean you?"

Shale smiled. "I mean, aunt, that—"

"Aunt, dear, please."

"Aunt—dear," he corrected. "I mean that at first M'lady Gloria seemed pleased to see me, but when she found I was Lord Anderley, she flew from me in dire disgust."

Again the little old lady frowned.

"The minx," she muttered. "Of course, 'tis plain she is but self-willed. Because she was betrothed to you by her father and because her inheritance depends upon her wedding you, she must, of course, determine not to do so."

"That is plain," agreed Shale.

Now a QUICK Quaker Oats

Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

No Waiting

These oats are almost ready cooked

Have you wanted an oat dish you could serve as quickly as boiled eggs? Then here it is. Our experts have perfected Quick Quaker Oats. It is the quickest cooking oats in the world.

Not different—just quick

Quick Quaker tastes just like regular Quaker. And Quaker, as you know, is world-famed for its flavor. This brand is flaked from the finest grains only—just the rich, plump, flavorful oats. It is just the cream oats. We get but ten pounds of such flakes from a bushel.

That's why mothers of all nations send for Quaker Oats—millions of them. This is the supreme food for children, and mothers want children to love it.

In Quick Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and are partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

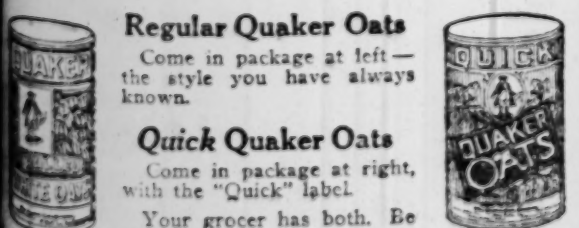

You get the same quality, the same super-flavor. Ask for the style you prefer. If your breakfasts are hurried, get Quick Quaker. But for flavor's sake, get one style of Quaker Oats.

It was always delicious. Now it is also quick.

TOO TRUE.

AN EXPERT OPINION.

WHEN I hear of medical experts disagreeing in a consultation I think of a diagnosis which was made by a colored person from down South who came North to drive a car for a friend of mine.

This was in the days when automobiles were more prone to functional disorders than at present.

The dicky was a fair-weather chauffeur and he professed to be a good mechanic, but, as subsequent events proved, no reasonably prudent person would trust him with a nutpick.

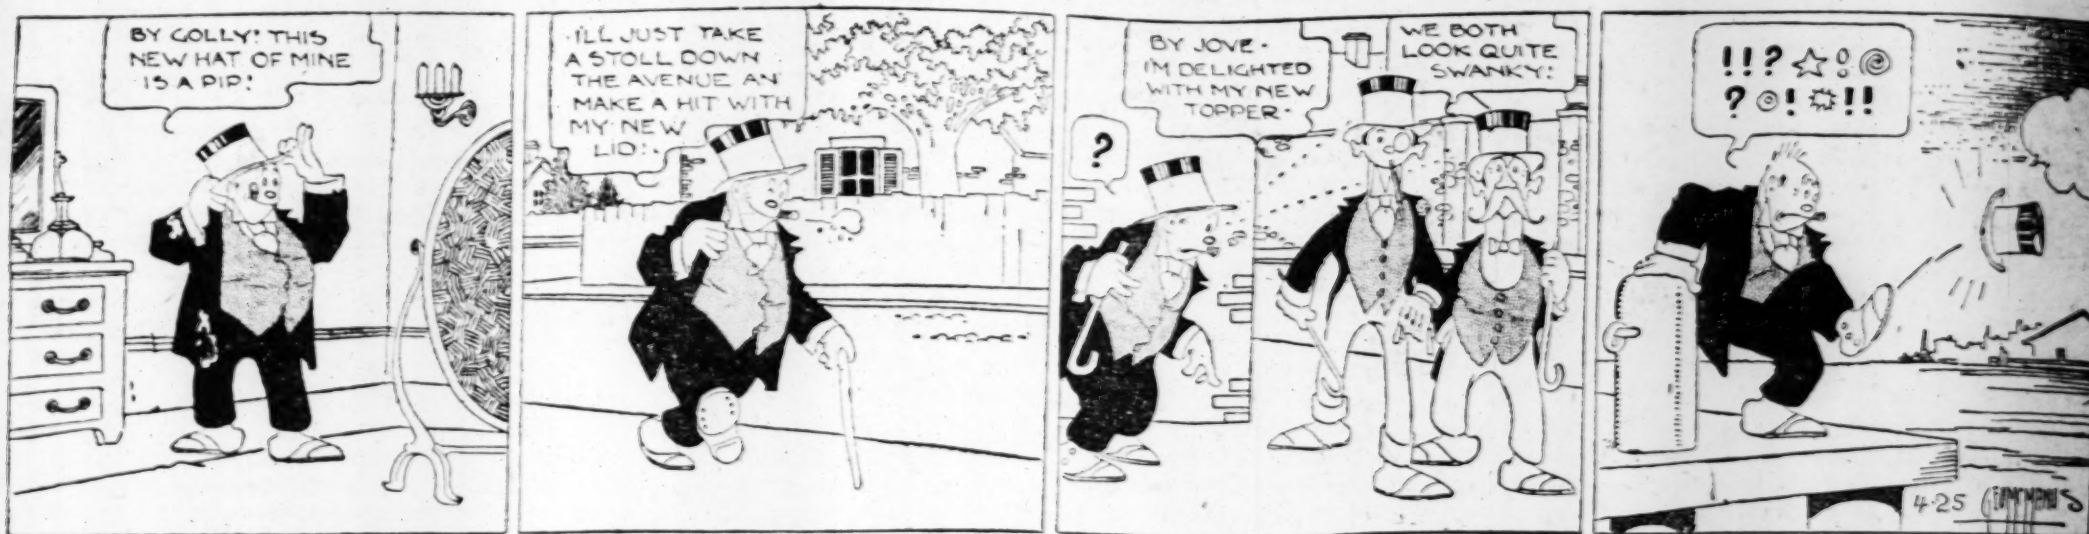

One bright Sunday he took his master for a spin over on Long Island. Suddenly, on a lonely road, the car developed a rattling rump and a hectic flush and after passing along for a few rods came to a dead stop.

The chauffeur descended from his seat, selected an armload of wrenches and other utensils from the tool box and wrangled his way under the balky auto. There he hammered for 20 minutes. Eventually he crawled out, covered with dust and streaked with grease, and delivered his opinion to his employer.

"Mr. Minus," he said, "I reckon you'll have to fine your way back to town de best way you kin. They's fo' sump'n things de matter wid dis furrer machine. I dunno what sary one of 'em is."

BITTER SCENES IN
HOHENSCHILD JUR
ROOM DESCRIB

Foreman Says Some Jurors, Convinced Guilt, Would Not Dismiss the Evidence.

'ONE WENT TO BED, REFUSING TO TAKE

'Things Have Been Most Unpleasant for Me,' declares Paul C. Ziemer Who Says He Favored Acquittal.

Scenes of bitterness in the room, in the first trial of H. H. Hohenschild, president of the defunct Night and Day Bank, last December were related for the first time to the jury in the first trial, standing 7 to 3 for conviction on final ballot.

Ziemer was called as a witness the hearing, being held before Circuit Judge Falkenhainer, upon Hohenschild's application for a change of venue in his second trial, charges of assenting to the record of deposits in a failing institution. The jury in the first trial, standing 7 to 3 for conviction on final ballot.

Says Prejudice Exists. Ziemer's testimony was intended to support Hohenschild's allegation that prejudice exists in St. Louis which will make it impossible for him to get a fair trial here. Ziemer declared that his experience in the jury room, where the jurors remained over Sunday, and even to his experience since the trial, convinced him that a widespread prejudice against Hohenschild exists. He knows this, he said, because prejudice has come to extend to some cases.

I was one of the five jurors who held out for acquittal," Ziemer testified. "Some of the other jurors would not discuss the details of evidence in the jury room. I showed that they did not care if the evidence had been—by the way, I was convinced that Hohenschild was guilty, and that was all there was to it."

Says One Man Went to Bed. One man, when he learned of some of us were for acquittal, took off his clothes and went to bed, refused to discuss the case with those who were for acquittal until 2 a. m., arguing that "Since the trial," Ziemer continued, "it has been known that I voted acquittal, and things have been made very unpleasant for me. This has extended even to my family circle. Women have asked me: 'How can you live with a man who would act that way?' meaning my attitude in the Hohenschild case. Every time I have met an acquaintance, I have had to try the whole case over."

The recent alleged defalcation of Donald W. Ross, State liquidation officer, from the Night and Day Bank's funds, were mentioned as two witnesses as having increased public prejudice against all persons connected with the bank.

Donald Testifies. Forrest C. Donnell, Senator Spencer's law partner, said that, since the Ross incident, he had heard personal remarks from the Night and Day Bank's funds, were mentioned as two witnesses as having increased public prejudice against all persons connected with the bank.

A. D. Norton, former Judge of the Court of Appeals, who was a character witness for Hohenschild at his former trial, said the prejudice against Hohenschild and the office indicted in the Night and Day Bank case was worse now, since the Ross indictment, than it had been at a time before. He said that even at who would admit the good character of Hohenschild and other directors would declare that they ought to be punished for letting Chairman A. Heininger lead the bank.

Depositor's Testimony. R. T. Brownrigg, a lawyer, was the first witness examined in the question of prejudice, said he and his wife were depositors of the bank, and that he had attended depositors' meetings. He said the sentiment among depositors and in the community at large appeared to him to be such as to preclude a fair trial of Hohenschild.

Don't you think," Judge Falkenhainer asked Brownrigg, "that of the $3,000,000 available for the Continued on Page 2, Column 2
